By SeekI read reviews on other books on the history of the Jews before selecting this book. This book may be like reading a college textbook, but as Paul Johnson tells, the Jewish race is the only race who has a written record that goes back to first recorded time. Johnson had written an excellent history of God and His chosen people. This ancient religious race as the author relates has spent much of her time in captivity, emancipation, ghetto, or the holocaust, yet never has lost its language, rituals, and rabbinical traditions. Yet, even today the Jews are despised and hated and Muslims wants to annihilate them. It would do these people well to learn Jewish history as well as the Bible.

By Michael T KennedyI remember Paul Johnson being interviewed by Dennis Prager on his radio show a few hears ago. Prager asked Johnson, a Catholic, why he had written this book. Johnson answer was "If you want to learn something, write a book about it." Excellent advice and we are all the beneficiaries. Highly recommended.
